MADE THE POPE MAD

Cardinal Hohenlohe is Summoned to an Interview at the Vatican.

LEO INSISTS ON A RETRACTION

The Prince Declines To Recall His Toast To Crisp.

"WE DO NOT NEED CRISP," SAYS LEO

The Cardinal Persists in His Position and the Two Eminent Churchmen Have Sharp Words.

Rome, May 7.—The pope has summoned Cardinal Hohenlohe to the vatican, owing to his having toasted Premier Crisp on the occasion of a recent dinner at the residence of Baron Blaauw, minister of foreign affairs.

Cardinal Hohenlohe obeyed the summons and was immediately granted an audience with his holiness. The pope was brusque in his manner and reproached the cardinal with having offered a toast to Signor Crisp. Cardinal Hohenlohe retorted that the triumph of the church was always desirable even with the assistance of Premier Crisp.

The pope replied that the church did not need Signor Crisp, and asked the cardinal to make a statement effecting the glad impression which his toast to the Italian premier had created.

Cardinal Hohenlohe refused to promise that he would make such a statement and the audience ended with both his holiness and the cardinal in an angry stage of mind.

APPEALED TO SATOLI.

Chattanooga Parishioners Object to Father Walsh's Removal.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 7.—(Special)—This Catholic parish has a sensation brewing which may prove as celebrated in church history as the McGlynn case. It concerns the removal of Father William Walsh, of Chattanooga, to another parish. Monsignor Satoli, the apostolic delegate, has been appealed to and the case is in his hands. It may yet go to the Pope Leo at Rome.

Last Tuesday a week ago an order was received from Bishop Byrne, the bishop of Tennessee, transferring Father Walsh from Chattanooga to Jackson, Tenn. To provide over this parish Father Graham, of Jackson, was sent here. He is a young man and has only been an ordained priest three years. Last night the male members of the congregation held a meeting, at which strong resolutions were adopted protesting to Bishop Byrne against the removal of Father Walsh. These resolutions have been forwarded to the bishop.

A strong protest against this was registered by Monsignor Satoli this morning, which was signed by the presidents of the banks, Judge McConnell, Judge Moon, the county officials, including Sheriff Hyde, Mayor Ochs and many prominent citizens. Father Walsh and some of the more influential priests in the south are in Washington to protest against Bishop Byrne's action.

Father Walsh has been a priest in this diocese for twenty-one years, the greater part of which time he has been in Chattanooga. He was previously in Memphis. There is a strong faction here which opposes him and which is supposed to have induced Bishop Byrne to order his removal.

AGAINST THE DEMOCRAT.

The Supreme Court Decides in Favor of the Fusionist.

Raleigh, N. C., May 7.—(Special)—This evening the supreme court delivered its opinion in the important case of Ewart against Jones, involving the title to the judgeship of the western criminal circuit. The opinion is by Chief Justice Fullwood, who says he has been consulted with the legislature. The exercise of power by the governor in his appointment of Jones as judge was without authority in the constitution or the legislative act. There was no vacancy in the office and the governor can only fill the office where there is a vacancy. It was simply a question of merit between the two, and the appointment of the one to the election of the other. The election of the person to fill it, nor was it necessary for the legislature to elect the officer in the same breath that created the office in order to prevent a constitutional vacancy to be filled by the governor when the act itself declared the purpose of the legislature to fill the judgeship.

The fact that the word "vacancy" is used in the proviso of the act does not affect the question. It is manifest that the purpose was to prevent a constitutional vacancy. The legislature had the constitutional power to create the office and fill it, and the plaintiff, Ewart, was ready and tried to enter upon it. He applied to the governor for his commission, which was refused, and on the next day the governor nominated, appointed and commissioned the defendant, Jones. The opinion is that the plaintiff is entitled to the office sued for and that the judgment below is erroneous. The judgment is reversed. Justice Avery, concurring in the conclusion of the court, in an elaborate opinion does not agree to the proposition that there was no vacancy before the ratification of the act and the election of the plaintiff.

TO INAUGURATE TURNER.

The Republicans and Populists Leave the Capital.

Nashville, Tenn., May 7.—(Special)—Governor Turner will be inaugurated tomorrow at noon in the presence of the democratic members of the general assembly. Most of the republican and some of the populist members left tonight for Chattanooga to make a formal call on Henry Clay Evans to be present.

Senator Thompson and Representative Herskell introduced bills today providing for a new penitentiary. It voids the contract already made, provides for paying Fulcher & Co. amounts actually expended, provides for new plans and specifications, and the expenditure of $350,000, and the leasing of a portion of the convicts for two years.

A resolution was also introduced providing for a committee to hear parties reflected upon in the report of the penitentiary committee.

The state superintendent of public instruction, Frank M. Smith, was arraigned today at the bar of the senate for his assault on Senator Butler. He denied that the senate had jurisdiction. Senators Early and Smith were named as prosecutors and the matter was referred to the judiciary committee, which decided to begin the hearing of evidence Monday morning. As the legislature adjourned Tuesday, this probably ends the matter.

The republican members of the house attempted to break a quorum today on a gerrymander bill redistricting certain west Tennessee districts. The bill also takes Morgan out of the tenth and puts it in the tenth and takes Scott out of the tenth, and puts it in the third. Two republicans remained in the house and barely made up the quorum. The bill passed.

BRICE WRITES A LETTER
In Which He Opposes the Silver Movement.

Columbus, O., May 8.—The following letter from Senator Calvin S. Brice was received by a prominent democrat here today:

"Dear Sir—I am informed that well-known friends of the free coinage of silver are organizing and collecting an anti-campaign to sustain the Ohio democracy for the express purpose of securing delegations pledged to the adoption of resolutions in the state convention committing the Ohio democracy in opposition to the expressed views of our democratic president.

"For one, I shall contest this in the state convention, and the state should not consent to have the doctrines of the advocates of free silver made a test of democracy in the state of Ohio, or that those who believe in and uphold the doctrines of President Cleveland upon that subject should be driven out of the democratic party."

BALTIMORE SENDS THREE.

The Board of Trade Professes Interest in the Muses.

Baltimore, Md., May 7.—The Baltimore board of trade will send three delegates to the silver dollar convention. The committee on banks and currency submitted a report which was accepted and President Levering will appoint the delegates. The report is as follows:

"Your committee views with alarm the danger which now threatens the credit of the country. The silver men, calling themselves bimetalists, desire to establish silver monometalism by the adoption of an international coinage, and they are even now, in their next meeting, to be held in New York, to demand that the United States can under a silver standard, maintain her credit in the eyes of the civilized world. By skillful reasoning and overruling the men who have the real interests of this country at heart must lose no time in meeting this emergency. The committee, in its opinion, is of the opinion that the most effective way to meet this emergency is to demand that the west, the stronghold of the silver party, the south may prove to be the battle ground of this great approaching controversy."

THEY VOTED FOR MASSEY.

Notwithstanding He Had Withdrawn from the Contest.

Dover, Del., May 7.—Despite the withdrawal of George V. Massey from the senatorial contest, six votes were cast for him today. The explanation given by his friends was that they had requested a conference with the other members tonight and until the conference had been held they should continue to vote for him. It is not believed that the Masses men will be willing to either Higgins or Addicks, but will see that a new man is named. The Addicks men still remain firm and declare that it will be Addicks or nobody. The one ballot taken today resulted: Higgins, republican, 6; Addicks, republican, 6; Massey, republican, 6; Pennington, republican, 1; Riddle, democrat, 9. The final returns are not to be had until Saturday, May 13th. The senate is expected to concur. May 9th had been previously fixed upon as the date for adjournment.

HE APPRECIATES THE COMPLIMENT.

Mr. Cleveland Sends $500 to Three Little Girls.

Decatur, Ind., May 7.—Three weeks ago there were born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zerkles, living near this city, three girl babies. The parents named the children, Ruth, Esther and Frances. A neighbor of the Zerkles wrote President Cleveland informing him of the facts and yesterday the father of the children received a draft from the president for $500, to be used for the education of the girls should they live.

TEXAS IS INSOLVENT.

Not a Cent in the Treasury—Heavy Appropriation Due Out.

Austin, Tex., May 7.—The state treasury when it closed last night was announced insolvent by Treasurer Wortham. The passage of the general appropriation bill by the legislature just closed made the state liable at once for $614,000. To pay this amount there was only $100,000. The bill was passed on April 20, and within six hours every cent of the $600,000 in the treasury was taken out and there is now a shortage of $514,000. Treasurer Wortham says it will be next January before the state will be on a cash basis again.

LEWIS REDWINE IS SICK.

He Has Had Several Hemorrhages and is in the Hospital.

Columbus, O., May 7.—(Special)—Lewis Redwine, the Atlanta teller who is doing a six year's sentence in the Ohio penitentiary for embezzeling $103,000, from the Geauga County National bank, is confined to the hospital with lung trouble. During the past few months he has had several hemorrhages, but has stuck to his work, until today, when he was put to bed.

Dr. Rowles, the prison physician, regards the case as serious, but says that he is now in such condition that he prefers not to guess on how it will terminate. Deputy Warden Dawson, when spoken to about it, said that he feared the worst. He says he has seen many prisoners from the south go down under similar circumstances. The indications are that the northern winter was too much for his constitution, which was far from vigorous when he was received at the prison.

A Strike at Joliet.

Joliet, Ill., May 7.—Firemen, laborers and gossips to the number of 300 employed at the Illinois Steel Company's mills struck and refused to return without an additional advance of 10 cents per day for labor, 15 cents per day for turn work and 15 cents per day for extra work. The employees of the Alice and Chain furnaces in Joliet have also made a like demand, but have not yet stopped work. It is the presumption that every furnace in Shadyside and every factory in the city will stop. The manufacturers say they cannot possibly pay the demand of their men. It is also possible that the strike may again involve the furnaces in the entire Mahoning valley.

TESTIMONY FOR DURANT.

A Woman Who Saw Minnie Williams at 8 o'clock the Fatal Night.

San Francisco, Cal., May 7.—Attorneys for Theodore Durand claim that at least seven persons testified that they think will enable them to bolster up an alibi in the case of Minnie Williams. It has been learned that the witness is a woman who conducts a hairdressing establishment and it is said that she was brought in. The Southwest Company has agreed to secure proper representatives from Pennsylvania at the Atlanta exposition. The governor says that he proposes to make it a representative commission of twelve when the exposition opens, to be brought in. The Southwest Company has agreed to pay all the men who do not return to their work.

Refuse To Return Without Advance.

Sharon, Pa., May 7.—The furnace men of the Douglas & Mable iron furnaces have struck and refuse to return without an additional advance of 10 cents per day for labor, 15 cents per day for turn work and 15 cents per day for extra work. The strike of the Alice and Chain furnaces in Joliet have also made a like demand, but have not yet stopped work. COOPER REFUSED TO ANSWER.

He Is Now in Charge of the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Springfield, Ill., May 7.—Frank H. Cooper, of Seigel, Cooper & Co., of Chicago, is now in charge of the sergeant-at-arms of the state senate, being held in contempt for refusing to answer a question propounded by the senate. By a vote of 28 to 13, the senate excluded Mr. Cooper from answering the question, which was propounded by the committee, and which he had refused to answer, with the exception of the question as to the amount of compensation he received. On this question the senate, by a vote of 20 to 19, decided that he must answer. On his refusing to do so he was placed in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms and the senate adjourned without further action.

A resolution was also introduced providing for a committee to hear parties reflected upon in the report of the penitentiary committee.

The state superintendent of public instruction, Frank M. Smith, was arraigned today at the bar of the senate for his assault on Senator Butler. He denied that the senate had jurisdiction. JOSEPH H. CHOATE MAKES REPLY

He Is Inclined To Be Factious, and Refers Sarcastically to the Attorney General's Argument.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Lord Douglass, of Haywood, eldest surviving son of the marquis of Queensberry, and the Rev. Stewart D. Headlam, well known as a much supported orator of stage, were arrested in the Bow street police court this morning and became security for Oscar Wilde's bond.

Rev. Mr. Headlam expels his becoming one of the bondsmen of Wilde by saying that he did so because the public mind was prejudiced against Wilde before the trial of his case began and he wished to enable Wilde to have his second trial in good health and spirits.

Wilde was brought from Holloway jail to the Bow street police court at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and when he was formally set at liberty upon the bail furnished, he entered a carriage and was driven away.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED.

A Richmond Man Falls in with Thieves in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, May 7.—The adventure of Mr. Braining, of Richmond, Va., during which he was robbed of $1,200 in cash and 1,300 worth of jewelry, was yesterday taken up by means of a knockout game in this city Sunday morning, became known today. Braining came to Philadelphia with a large deal in tobacco. He missed the train at the Pennsylvania station and was drug into a druggist's shop, where he was beaten and drugged and then his pockets were taken.

CHICAGO CONFEDERATE MONUMENT

Preparations To Dedicate It with Imposing Ceremonies.

CHICAGO, May 7.—A fitting rebuke to the criticisms made by Department Commander Thayer of the Grand Army of the Republic of Massachusetts, the First infantry is preparing to make the dedication of the confederate soldiers' monument at Oakwood cemetery one of the most notable events in the history of the regiment. Instead of a firing party on horseback, the firing party will be held in the armory, the First infantry, and the regimental band will play the national anthem.

THE PROGRAMME ARRANGED.

Mr. Stonewall Jackson and Miss Mildred Lee Will Be Present.

Raleigh, N. C., May 7.—(Special)—The full programme of the ceremonies here at the unveiling of the confederate monument may 20th was arranged today. Rev. Dr. Stephen Strode of Raleigh will offer prayer. Captain Samuel A. Ashe will welcome the visitors to Raleigh. Colonel Alfred Moore Waddell will deliver the oration. Colonel Sam McDowell Tate will present the monument and Governor Elias Carr will accept it in

A DAY IN MACON.

More Than $100,000 Worth of Property Changes Hands.

LARGE BLOCKS OF SECURITIES SOLD

Colonel Hardeman, the State Treasurer, Is Examining the Banks—A Suit Against the Central for $5,000.

Macon, Ga., May 7.—(Special)—On the day that the sale of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad was confirmed by the court, it became known to a few that the firm of Gustin, Guerry & Hall would be retained as counsel for the reorganized company. This firm was counsel for the road before it went into the hands of a receiver and has been counsel for the receiver since the first hour of his appointment. What effect the sad and unexpected death of Judge Gustin, the senior member of the firm, will have is not known. It is strange, indeed, that Judge Gustin should have been the attorney of the road so long and given to it his able and faithful services during the troublous years of its financial embarrassments and then died just at the dawning of its new life, as it was emerging from the clouds of depression into the sunshine of hope and prosperity. It is thought that Messrs. Dupont, Guerry and Joseph Hall will continue the partnership and be counsel for the new company. It is not known whether they will take in the practice of Judge Gustin's place or not. The name of Hon. L. C. Bartlett has been suggested by some as a possibility in this connection. This, however, is a mere surmise or suggestion without the basis of reality so far as yet ascertained.

Large Sale of Property.

Over $100,000 worth of property was sold at public outcry today. The principal sale was of real estate bonds and bonds belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Eleanor Wilkinson. The sale was conducted by the executors, George B. Turpin and Richard Needham. The sale alone amounted to about $100,000, the major part of which was in state and county bonds. State 4% per cent bonds from $12 to $200, according to the length of time they have to run. The 3% per cent state bonds sold at $101.50. United States 4 per cent bonds sold at $112.50. City of Macon bonds, 6 per cent, sold at $114.25. The principal buyers of state and government bonds were T. C. Dempsey, W. W. and W. W. Cabaniss, Mr. John Haitz, both city, Georgia bonds. Central Georgia bank stock sold at $75 and Exchange bank stock sold at $80. Southwestern railroad stock sold at $67.50. Central stock at $11, and Atlanta and West Point railroad debentures sold at $25.00. Mr. T. C. Dempsey bought a diamond ring, the top of which decreased for $75, and a diamond ring for $20, also a lot of spoons and forks. Mr. John Haitz bought a gold watch for $24. Real estate on Fourth street sold to Frank Turpin for $2,500.

One of the sales made today was a house and lot on Orange street belonging to W. B. Willingham, of Atlanta. It sold to Ben F. Jones for $2,500.

He Wants $5,000.

On October 6, 1894, Mr. W. F. Lindsey bought a ticket via the Central road from Macon to Forsyth. When the train was a few miles from Macon the conductor asked him for his ticket. He searched his vest pocket, but could not find it, having placed it in his coat pocket. The conductor made him get out of the car while the train was going at a high rate of speed, and nine was about all hand. He fell and severely injured his hip and had to walk twenty miles to Forsyth. While on the platform of the car, he says, he offered to pay his fare in cash, but the conductor would not receive it, and told him to hurry and get off the train as he would not wait, he agreed with him. The above is in substance the allegations made by Lindsey in a suit that he has filed against the receivers of the Central road for $5,000 damages. His attorneys are J. W. Willis and Berner & Bloodworth. The suit was first filed in the city court, but was transferred today to the United States court, with the approval of Judge Jones.

Examining the Banks.

State Treasurer R. U. Hardeman was in the city today examining the state banks. He commenced work at the Central Georgia bank, the state depository, and found the affairs of this institution in solid condition. The bank has on hand $20,000 in excess of the 25 per cent demand deposit required by the law. He moved from the Central Georgia to the Macon State bank, and when he finishes there he will examine the other banks of the city. The visit of the state treasurer was entirely unexpected, but he will doubtless find all banks of Macon in prime condition.

Georgia Teachers' Association.

The official programme of the annual meeting of the Georgia Teachers' Association, held at Island Park, on July 5th, to July 5th, in the teacher's auditorium, has been issued. The opening programme will be rendered on Tuesday evening, June 23rd. The address of welcome will be delivered by Colonel R. E. Park, of Macon, a great friend of education, and president of the New Cumberland Island Company. The reports will be made by Euseb E. Smith, professor of English in the State Normal college, Athens. On the opening evening Professor Pollock, of Mercer university, will deliver an address, "The Epoch Maker." During the convention addresses will be made by Governor Atkinson, Attorney General Terrell, State School Commissioner Glenn and others.

New Factory.

A company has been organized to establish a trousers factory at Whitehall, five miles from Macon, to be known as the Whitehall Manufacturing Company. Mr. Moses G. Mitchell, of this city, is the president of the new company and Mr. John R. White, the president of the Georgia factory. The machinery has been ordered and the new factory is located at Whitehall, will be in operation inside of the next month. The capacity of the factory will be fifty dozen pairs of trousers per day and the output has already been sold many months ahead.

The Warehouse Sold.

The Farmers' Alliance warehouse in this city has been sold. It was put up at public auction yesterday afternoon for $1,000. Mr. Mose of this city, for $1,000. The Farmers' Alliance did a good business, but declined with that order until it went into the hands of a receiver.

Quite a large amount of property was sold at public outcry in the courthouse this morning, but brought very good prices.

Mr. J. W. Taylor, of Davon, O., is here making estimates on the cost of the machinery to be put in at the new electric power plant at Mitchell's bridge.

Mr. Aleck Hemphill died in Oconee county. He will be buried tomorrow morning at Princeton.

Thirty-five Athenians left this afternoon for Washington to attend the Southern Baptist convention.

Dr. J. H. Goss and D. D. Quillian are attending the session of the American Medical Society, at Baltimore.

Miss Barbara B. Blount and Miss Blount had a delightful "at home" this afternoon for a artist.

The county commissioners held their regular monthly meeting today and transacted considerable routine business. Mr. Walter Nelson, the newly elected commissioner, went into the board today for the first time since his election.

The temperance crusade commenced in Vineville tonight with an address by Rev. Dr. Monk. Mr. C. A. Turner, Mr. W. B. Hitt, and Mr. Culpepper will also speak during the week.

NOT A CRIMINAL TO TRY.

Baker County Hardly Needs a Court at All.

Albany, Ga., May 7.—(Special)—The spring term of the Baker superior court was convened yesterday only to adjourn. There was not a single criminal case on the docket and the civil business was so unimportant as to render the court unnecessary holding of the court.

Mr. M. M. Heath, of Macon, "gave a delightful and most excellent eloquent recital in the chapel of the Wesleyan Female college tonight. Miss Heath assisted him admirably."

ATLANTA, GA., May 8, 1865.

A Word of Hope.

The New York World makes some comments on parts of Mr. Cleveland's letter to the governor of Mississippi.
 These comments are significant of the attitude of the adherents of Shylockism who still pretend to be democrats.

Mr. Cleveland in his letter refers to party disintegration. He has seen large chunks of it in operation right before his eyes, and speaks by the card.
 But The New York World seizes the cue and talks of the determination of the free coinage democrats to split the party.
 The able editor goes on to utter a hypocritical monologue over the disruption that is taking place in the party.

The editor at his word, will he kindly point to one single symptom of disintegration in the democratic party at this time? The eastern Shylocks, aided by Clevelandism, have made a most desperate attempt to wreck and destroy the democratic party, and at one time they had nearly succeeded. The great democratic majority in Georgia was cut down in 1864 from $80,000 to about 25,000, not because the democrats of this state had changed their convictions or deserted their principles, but because they were humiliated and disgusted to see a president and an administration elected by their votes run away from the pledges of the party and proceed to carry out the programme of the eastern Shylocks. The only method which the common people had of showing their disgust or of resenting the deep disgrace that had been put on their party

 by Clevelandism was to remain away from the polls or vote with some other organization. Some took one course, some took the other, but all were impelled by the resentment they felt that an administration from which they hoped so much should have entered into active partnership with Shylockism.

There were signs of disintegration
 then, and some very threatening ones.

That it was and is the intention of those who stand for Clevelandism to bring about the destruction of the democratic party no thoughtful man can doubt,

and this event would have happened if any strong or reputable element of the party in the south and west could have been coaxed or bulldozed into endorsing and supporting the republican doctrines of finance which the democratic party has been opposing for thirty years.

But this crisis is a thing of the past.

The most respectable of the democratic leaders have refused to bow the knee to Clevelandism, or to support the infamous policy demanded by the eastern Shylocks.

Men who have been inclined to give their influence and support to other parties in the hope that these new organizations might be able to do something for the relief of the people now perceive very clearly that Clevelandism stands only for Shylockism and for the element of officeholders that can be buldozed into surrendering its convictions.

They see that the honest voters, the men who make the party and who will control it in good time, are as violently opposed to the infamous policy of Shy-lockism carried out under the auspices of Clevelandism as they were to the same infamous policy inaugurated by the republicans.

We say, therefore, to the editor of The World that he is wasting his tears when he begins to weep over democratic disintegration at this late day. He should have lifted up his voice in lamentation when Mr. Cleveland was using the angel cake of office and the bull whip of power to force through congress a republican platform.

He should have cried aloud when Mr.
 Cleveland was piling up an addition of two hundred millions of dollars to the burden of the people's debts. He should have uttered a wail when he discovered that Mr. Cleveland had placed himself and his administration actively behind
 the most infamously, the most criminal,
 the most ruinous policy that the greed of Shylockism ever conceived, or a bribed republican congress ever carried on.

It is too late for the editor of The World to weep now. The critical hour has gone by. The democratic party is on its feet again. Those who, in their despair, would have repudiated it, have determined to repudiate the traitor, instead. The democratic party in the south is in a healthy condition at this moment. It will purge itself of the agents of the Shylock class and continue to stand for the people. It will declare for the unlied and independent coinage of silver, and on this issue

it will call to its aid every honest voter in the land who feels that the time has come for the common people to get together and strike down the infamous policy of robbery that has been dictated by the Shylock class.

The World need not think that a few traitors and mercenaries can wreck the democratic party.

A Great Movement.

The rush to the west bids fair to be equalled in the next few years by the great movement of population southward.

When The Chicago Tribune a few days ago published an article describing southern conditions and detailing the progress of colonization in this region
 the chairman of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association of Council Bluffs, Ia., wrote to the editor protesting against the publication of such matter on the ground that it would injure the west. In reply the Chicago paper stated that it had simply given the news, without advising the western farmers, in the matter. "Our farmers think that they can do better by going south," says
 The Tribune, "they will unquestionably do so."

It is gratifying to see the active interest of the railroads in this movement.
 Last week the passenger agents of several lines met in Chicago and organized a committee to encourage the migration which has already set in from the north to the south, and they expect to have many thousand settlers located in this section by this fall. The railroad managers are waking up to the fact that more population means more business and more money for their lines. They know what immigration did for the west and they anticipate what it will do for the south. The railroads with their literature and cheap rates and other devices built up the west, and they are now getting ready to give us the benefit of the same policy.

Close observers of the situation predict the largest interstate movement of population that has occurred since the exodus westward from 1840 to 1850, and it will come to the best advertised and most inviting southern localities.

What Might Have Been.

Editor Henry Watterson seems to have stirred up an interesting controversy over his recent statement that at the Hampton Roads conference.

President Lincoln presented a sheet of paper to Vice President Stephens, saying: "Write the word 'union' on the one side, and what you please on the other," a statement which, it is said, Mr. Lincoln based upon the proposal held in his hand to appropriate $400,000,000 as compensation for their slaves.

In reply to this Hon. John Temple
 Graves, in last Sunday's Constitution, endeavored to show that Mr. Lincoln made no such proposition in the conference, and he quotes from Messrs. Stephens, Reagan, Hunter and Campbell to sustain him in the issue thus made.

The Philadelphia Times takes the matter up and declares that both Mr. Watterson and Mr. Graves are in error. The Times says:

Mr. Lincoln made no such proposition at the Hampton Roads conference and this statement is made upon Mr. Lincoln's own admission, as follows: "I have no money in my pocket," said Mr. Lincoln.
 "I made no such proposition because of Mr.
 Stephens's frank announcement at the opening of the conference that he could not enterprise any proposition that did not embrace the perpetuity of the confederacy. It was this fact, and this alone, that made President Lincoln and his associates to propose the terms of the war, and it was for that reason, and that alone, that he made no proposition for the payment of $400,000,000 to the south to emancipate the slaves.

As early as August, 1864, Mr. Lincoln exhibited to the editor of this journal a memorandum as follows: "I have no money in my pocket," said Mr. Lincoln.
 "I made no such proposition because of Mr.
 Stephens's frank announcement at the opening of the conference that he could not enterprise any proposition that did not embrace the perpetuity of the confederacy. It was this fact, and this alone, that he made no proposition for the payment of $400,000,000 to the south to emancipate the

But men should try to get into trades and professions for which they are specially fitted. Round pegs in square holes and square pegs in round holes will never become masters of their environment. In a word, they will not fit the situation.

If superior men can take up these apparently exhausted lines of business, thousands of agents are barely making a living, and yet we know of a man who recently went into a well worked field with a first-class book and his profits now average $200 a week. He selected the right book, and he is the right man to be considered.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

A good story in which a member of Atlanta's heavy swelldom is the hero comes from Albany, Ga. The incident has caused the quasi-hero to be much of his time during the past several days to the reading of "Paul Revere's Ride" and the famous run of our friend, Gilpin.

During these delightful and love-inspiring times are institutions which have come into favorable notice. I am informed that there was picnic given in Albany in honor of a very charming young Atlanta woman, who, by the way, does not figure in the incident. It was a jolly party, and moonlightings on hand in beautiful supply. There was, some one of the party is quoted as saying, too much moonlight.

The party drove out from Albany not less than eight miles. There were two hand-some drags to take the guests out to the scene, and it is to these two drags the Atlanta cavalier owes what he is now pleased to term "jolly great fun." It was after 11 o'clock when the party began to prepare to return to the city. One-half of the men who started in a drag and drove merrily away, when it was time for the second drag to leave, it was supposed that those not on the spot and ready to go had gone with the first party. Blistfully ignorant of the departures of the others, the young Atlantan and a fair Alolian sat on the romantic side of a large oak. Time had waited by on soft, noiseless wings. The shifting of the shadow had not been noticed. From a hillock in the distance watted back the sounds of merriment.

Then came the dread discovery, "Oh!" exclaimed the young lady tearfully. The bright thought struck him, "Where's a telephone?" he asked hopefully.

"Albany," she sighed reproachfully. They determined to walk until a convenient team was found. It was half-way to Albany before they discovered a team. The Atlantan was worn out and his companion was exhausted.

The old negro occupant was roused and asked if he had a team. "There's a team in the rear," he said. "It's a two-hoss wagon, an' Betsy do only animal can de place. Betsy's a spang-up saddle-boss," he suggested.

"Trot her out," said the young man de-sparingly.

After many screams from the young woman, the team was found and in a couple of hours Albany was reached.

The young lady and the gray mare are quantities that the Atlantan never mentions, even in his saddest moments.

A few days ago in Chicago there was an interesting meeting at which there were meetings held for the sole purpose of expediting upon the cost of saving, or conserving, a soul.

The saving of a soul was discussed from the standpoint of a commercial value. In

THE PASSING THROUGH.

Ex-Governor Hubbard of Texas is enthusiastic over the exposition and out at his Texas home is giving the enterprise his aid. In a recent talk with a representative of the "Dallas News" and Galveston News he said:

"While in Atlanta, Ga., early in April I was invited by the president and the officers, together with Governor Northern and other prominent Georgians, to visit the exposition park. I was surprised at the magnitude of the plans and buildings even then under construction. The park is a bird's eye view, recalls (of course on a smaller scale) the world's Columbian exposition at Chicago in 1893. It will be on a grander plan a long ways than the Midwinter exposition at San Francisco in the winter of 1893 and 1894. It will exceed the great Cotton States exposition in New Orleans of 1894 and 1895, and easily rank next to the Chicago fair. The great buildings as at Chicago for manufacturing, agriculture and horticulture, mining and electricity and fine arts—in a word, for all the exhibitions of the great industries and arts and products of the south are being erected in this country in this country.

The letter to me of the president of the exposition published recently in the "News" expressed an earnest desire that Texas all respects the greatest of the states of our southland, should be represented, not only by large delegations of her people, but especially by an exhibit worthy of the world's fair.

"There is every indication that this season will be the best in the history of our fair. The railroad companies have agreed to give to Texas ample space in the proper departments free for her exhibits, or to set apart one of the most eligible and beautiful spots for the erection of a separate 'Texas building' for the same purpose. I find that nearly all the southern states will be represented in the exposition, and that there will be many visitors there all summer. You know there are a great many people to whom a visit to Indian Spring every summer is a prime necessity and in addition to these there will be many new ones. The great pavilion buildings and many of them will erect suitable state buildings, as at Chicago."

Being asked what he thought would be the effect of such an exhibit by Texas, he readily replied that it would be, in his opinion, of far more benefit to Texas than to the other states, as it would be the best representation of the southern states as we all know with regard to the southern states, from Virginia to Louisiana, Texas, in the past and in the future, has drawn and will draw the most homogeneous of her population—accustomed to similar industrial and agricultural and linked by indissoluble bonds and traditions of kinship, of common sacrifices and sorrows, of a heroic history.

"From George Collier comes the news that the Wigwam will remain open this season up to the 1st of January. He has already booked a home on the 1st of January for the winter, and if he can get the Wigwam open again he will be in a position to do so."

"What's a telephone?" he asked hopefully.

"Albany," she sighed reproachfully.

They determined to walk until a convenient team was found. It was half-way to Albany before they discovered a team.

The Atlantan was worn out and his companion was exhausted.

The old negro occupant was roused and asked if he had a team.

"There's a team in the rear," he said. "It's a two-hoss wagon, an' Betsy do only animal can de place. Betsy's a spang-up saddle-boss," he suggested.

After many screams from the young woman, the team was found and in a couple of hours Albany was reached.

The young lady and the gray mare are quantities that the Atlantan never mentions, even in his saddest moments.

A few days ago in Chicago there was an interesting meeting at which there were meetings held for the sole purpose of expediting upon the cost of saving, or conserving, a soul.

The saving of a soul was discussed from the standpoint of a commercial value. In

"Texas doesn't propose to proselyte, but she will mean by such an exhibit to offer inducements of richer and cheaper lands, a 'world' of it, too, and a climate all the year around, and a welcome so genial and genuine that may be felt, but never expressed in words. So that those of the many hundreds of thousands who will be induced to settle up there, make up their minds to come to some part of the southwest, may be there induced to cast their fortunes with Texas."

"What plan do you propose, governor, of getting up and sending such an exhibit?" asked the reporter.

"I have no ideas of my own to suggest."

"With deference, however, I would second the proposition. I have heard made, and that is for all the real estate associations of the state deeply interested as they are in immigration, and the various state and district and county fairs and horticultural expositions will meet at Dallas, Texas, for a week. They are to be held in the city, and to call a meeting at some early day, and all the railroad companies of Texas should join, of course, in this convention, and then discuss and adopt a practical plan of operation for sending such an exhibit."

"What plan do you propose, governor, of getting up and sending such an exhibit?" asked the reporter.

"I have no ideas of my own to suggest."

"Texas is question I asked a well-known minister yesterday. I mentioned the article to him. He had read it, and was displeased accordingly."

"There should be no commercial side to the conversion of a person or to the saving of a soul. I fear that too many of our ministers are prone to reflect upon the saving of a soul."

"There is a vast difference."

"It is well enough that it should be stated, however, that it is a matter of fact that many who have evinced a mental preference to any certain church. I am sorry to say that I have listened to reports in which the real estate associations of the state had been saved. I do not agree with this proposition. A soul, saved or not, is not a subject for discussion at a business meeting."

"I do not care to be placed in the attitude of almost saying to my congregation, or to any rich man, that he is not a soul to be saved. The saving of a soul, if it is true one—involves an expenditure of this much or that much and stand by for a check."

Monday was a very warm day in Atlanta, and the weather was consequently more than ever in demand as topic of conversation.

People complained about the weather. Not less than thirty of those comfort-seeking persons asked me: "Is it hot enough for you?" When they begin firing that question at you, it is a sign that hot weather is on hand and is beginning to make it self known. While Atlantians were complaining and trying to keep cool last Monday they were not suffering nearly so much as many of their northern friends. In the north the weather was hot and dry. Though there have been no reports of sunstroke, the same sort of those unfortunate occurrences is quite upon us.

At Niagara Falls, where it is supposed to be cool during the summer, it was 10 degrees warmer than in Atlanta on Monday.

The reports from there indicate that the thermometer slipped up to 98 and shockingly remained by staying there for several hours. The heat was so intense that many of them had to rest after a couple of hours in the sun.

Atlanta is in her summer weather, and there is no reason for crying out against a few touches of northern sun. Perched in a nest of mountains, many feet above sea level, Atlanta is, geographically, situated in a cool spot. The geography of the situation is not out of keeping with the real weather. Atlanta is famous for her good climate, and she is keeping a temperature that varies less than any other city in the United States.

To be hopeful and happy without logic or reason is the nature of the negro. In jail or out, the average Decatur street negro is serenely content.

There is a carelessness and recklessness about them that is interesting. Negroes are at times decidedly humorous, though apparently without intent and without understanding. Many interesting incidents occur at the state house. Not longer than a couple of nights ago there was a little negro to the police station. He was a haphazard, loosely dressed, shabby-looking fellow. He drooled out his words in a sleepy fashion.

"What's your name?" asked the station keeper.

"I don't know, when I goes ter school," was the drawling reply.

"Willie Johnson's my name now, 'cause I ain't got none."

All efforts to discover a reason for the two names elicited the single answer:

"How come I can't have my own name?"

as "Billy" Donaldson, and is known from one end of America to the other.

Mr. O. Dryman and family, Deafence, O., have moved to the Union Veterans' colony at Stratham, Ga. Mr. Dryman, who will have charge of the Ohio department of the colony, was in the city yesterday.

One of the best known politicians of New York, a man who was the close friend of John Kelly and is a friend of a lifetime of "Dick" Croker, is Mr. Laurence Delmour, who is at the Aragon. Mr. Delmour—"Larry," in New York—is a Tammany leader who has never held an office and would never take one. He is a wealthy estate dealer. Mr. and Mrs. Delmour are in the south traveling for their health.

Mr. John A. West, business manager of "The New York Observer," is in the city, having come for the purpose of working up sufficient interest here to warrant the getting out of a special exposition edition of his paper. It is his intention to have quite a large supplement to "The Observer" covering the exposition as it developed, with a sketch of the city of Atlanta and the various States and International exposition. "The Observer," of course, is known to every one as one of the greatest church papers in this country.

Mr. M. A. Linder, general manager of the Indian Springs and Flosshia railroad, is in the city and has much to say about the outlook for the famous Indian Spring.

"There is every indication that this season will be the best in the history of our fair. The family residing in the city, and the various exhibits for the exposition, are all excellent. We are to have a large supplement to "The Observer" covering the exposition as it developed, with a sketch of the city of Atlanta and the various States and International exposition. "The Observer," of course, is known to every one as one of the greatest church papers in this country.

Mr. W. D. O'Farrell and Hon. H. H. Carlton, of Athens, came over yesterday.

Colonel O. S. Hayes, manager of the Ohio colony at Stratham, Jackson county, is at the Aragon.

Mr. S. L. Fuller, a well-known merchant of Clarksville, is at the Aragon.

Hon. Dave Meadow, member of the house, from Madison, was here yesterday on legal business.

Solicitor General Gus Fite was here yesterday.

—"What plan do you propose, governor, of getting up and sending such an exhibit?" asked the reporter.

"I have no ideas of my own to suggest."

"With deference, however, I would second the proposition. I have heard made, and that is for all the real estate associations of the state deeply interested as they are in immigration, and the various state and district and county fairs and horticultural expositions will meet at Dallas, Texas, for a week. They are to be held in the city, and to call a meeting at some early day, and all the railroad companies of Texas should join, of course, in this convention, and then discuss and adopt a practical plan of operation for sending such an exhibit."

"What plan do you propose, governor, of getting up and sending such an exhibit?" asked the reporter.

"I have no ideas of my own to suggest."

"Texas is question I asked a well-known minister yesterday. I mentioned the article to him. He had read it, and was displeased accordingly."

"There should be no commercial side to the conversion of a person or to the saving of a soul. I fear that too many of our ministers are prone to reflect upon the saving of a soul."

"There is a vast difference."

"It is well enough that it should be stated, however, that it is a matter of fact that many who have evinced a mental preference to any certain church. I am sorry to say that I have listened to reports in which the real estate associations of the state had been saved. I do not agree with this proposition. A soul, saved or not, is not a subject for discussion at a business meeting."

"I do not care to be placed in the attitude of almost saying to my congregation, or to any rich man, that he is not a soul to be saved. The saving of a soul, if it is true one—involves an expenditure of this much or that much and stand by for a check."

Monday was a very warm day in Atlanta, and the weather was consequently more than ever in demand as topic of conversation.

People complained about the weather. Not less than thirty of those comfort-seeking persons asked me: "Is it hot enough for you?" When they begin firing that question at you, it is a sign that hot weather is on hand and is beginning to make it self known. While Atlantians were complaining and trying to keep cool last Monday they were not suffering nearly so much as many of their northern friends. In the north the weather was hot and dry. Though there have been no reports of sunstroke, the same sort of those unfortunate occurrences is quite upon us.

At Niagara Falls, where it is supposed to be cool during the summer, it was 10 degrees warmer than in Atlanta on Monday.

The reports from there indicate that the thermometer slipped up to 98 and shockingly remained by staying there for several hours. The heat was so intense that many of them had to rest after a couple of hours in the sun.

Atlanta is in her summer weather, and there is no reason for crying out against a few touches of northern sun. Perched in a nest of mountains, many feet above sea level, Atlanta is, geographically, situated in a cool spot. The geography of the situation is not out of keeping with the real weather. Atlanta is famous for her good climate, and she is keeping a temperature that varies less than any other city in the United States.

To be hopeful and happy without logic or reason is the nature of the negro. In jail or out, the average Decatur street negro is serenely content.

There is a carelessness and recklessness about them that is interesting. Negroes are at times decidedly humorous, though apparently without intent and without understanding. Many interesting incidents occur at the state house. Not longer than a couple of nights ago

there was a little negro to the police station. He was a haphazard, loosely dressed, shabby-looking fellow.

"What's your name?" asked the station keeper.

"I don't know, when I goes ter school," was the drawling reply.

"Willie Johnson's my name now, 'cause I ain't got none."

All efforts to discover a reason for the two names elicited the single answer:

"How come I can't have my own name?"

Mexico Will Have an Exhibit at the Exposition Sure.

THE CAIRO STREET CONCESSION LET

It Was Awarded to the Lessors of the World's Fair Cairo Street-Executive Committee Meeting.

The concession of Cairo street was let yesterday by the executive committee.

The concession was secured by George Fango, who was the lessor of the Cairo street at the world's fair.

Every one will be pleased to hear that the world's fair will recall the streets of Cairo, as it was one of the most interesting exhibitions on the midway. The attractions in every instance were genuine and every feature was carried out to the smallest detail.

The street that will be brought to the Atlanta exposition will be practically the same as the Cairo street. There will be world's fair streets of Cairo. There will probably not be so much space occupied at the Cotton States and International exposition as at the world's fair, but the programme will be better.

It is well known that with every reproduction such as this, and with the expense of shipping from the world's fair exhibit, Mr. Fango will be able to arrange his Cairo street in even better shape than at Chicago. It is not known whether the theater will be reproduced, but it probably will be. The dance du ventre was one of the features of Cairo street at the world's fair.

It is very fortunate, both for the exposition and the lessor, that the same man who exhibited in Chicago will have the Cairo street here.

Mexico Will Be Represented.

Mexico will have a splendid exhibit at the exposition and will send the best Mexican band to discourse such sweet music as the La Valenciana, and other Mexican airs.

A telegram was received at exposition headquarters yesterday morning from Commissioner Avery. The telegram states that President Diaz has appointed a special commissioner from the department of agriculture and public works to collect, transcribe, and issue a complete exhibit from Mexico to represent the Mexican government during the exposition.

This exhibit from Mexico is one that has been looked forward to with interest, as Mexico is very near neighbor of the United States. That the exhibit will be one that will come up to all expectations is a safe prediction.

From Mexico Commissioner Avery will go to Venezuela next.

Meeting of the Executive Committee.

The executive committee met yesterday afternoon and disposed of several matters besides the letting of the concession for Cairo street.

One of the first matters brought before the committee was a motion that committee would meet on certain days in September, October and November school children should be admitted at 15 cents each.

The motion was adopted unanimously after the last Fridays in those three months were selected as the days.

A Matter of Importance.

The question of public comfort came up, and Mr. A. C. Bruce, one of that committee, moved that Mr. E. C. Saunders, the directory man, had agreed to take charge of the canvassers for the comfort of the city.

Work will be begun on Monday and there will be a tabulated report ready by the end of two weeks. Every one should be prepared for the canvassers and should have all the information necessary ready.

The committee will when you know the number of people each house can take.

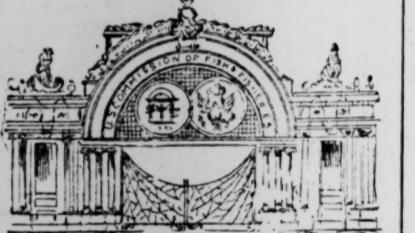

There Will Be a Live Stock Exhibit.

The live stock committee, which reported favorably regarding an exhibit of live stock at the exposition, was sustained in its report. There will be a live stock exhibit and a good one.

A GREAT FISH EXHIBIT.

Architect Bruce Receives the Plan for Uncle Sam's Fish Show.

Mr. A. C. Bruce, the resident architect having in charge the construction of the government building, yesterday received from Uncle Sam's Fish Show committee a plan which will occupy a large space in the government building. The plans came from Fish Commissioner Tarlton M. Bean and have been prepared with great care. The plans were made so as to embrace many varieties of fish and to comprise in smaller space an exhibit fully as representative as the one in Chicago.

The exhibit of fisheries will be located in the southwestern corner of the government building. It will be divided from the other section of the building and will be arranged after the fashion of the new building at Chicago. Under the big bazaar a beautiful fountain will play constantly and in the waters of this ever-active fountain, thousands of fish of every variety will be seen. Mr. Bruce is at work making ready the fisheries section.

The Photograph Building.

The photograph building will be one of the prettiest on the grounds.

Most of the work will be done by the concessionaires. Mr. L. M. Boone is a practical photographer who has had fifteen years' experience and has made a specialty of exposition work.

WINGATE & MELL CLOSED.

Deputy Sheriff Hill Levied a Mortgage.

Mr. F. A. in favor of Mayson & Hill.

The well-known firm of Wingate & Mell was closed yesterday on a mortgage given to Mayson & Hill to the amount of $750.

The chattel mortgage was only one of several that were filed yesterday afternoon. The other chattel mortgages were as follows:

To the Lowry Banking Company, $37,000; to W. S. Gramling and T. C. Mayson to secure a bond signed, $5,000; to the B. C. Bibb Stove Company, $25; to the Western Brass Manufacturing Company, $88; to the Heroy Meter Company, $12.

The building is in the hands of the trustees and the people of the town have made the place a home for the trustees.

Mrs. Anne S. Green, of Culpeper, who is a well-known energy and intelligent executive, abiding in one of this latter board, is already at work and has had many interesting and valuable advice promised. Mr. Green, who is in the city, will be glad to hear of and others who wish to send their precious treasures to Atlanta to show the world, which will be largely represented there, the value of the country's past.

The governor will afford these ladies all aid in his power, but no legislature is in session, and he has no power to call a special session to facilitate this work. Necessity is the mother of invention and women never without resource. She who can find a way to devise to meet the exigency of this absence of legislative assistance.

The governor has called a meeting of the board for the 2d day of May, at the executive mansion.

Andersonville Cemetery Will Not Remain Open if Trouble Threatens.

THAT IS CAPTAIN CLEM'S ORDER

Colonel Kellogg Will Leave Thursday for Memphis—Other News from Fort McPherson.

Captain Clem, of the United States army, who is in charge of all the federal cemeteries in this division, has taken steps regarding the threatened trouble at Andersonville.

On Monday a long petition was sent to Governor Atkinson asking that he send troops to Andersonville on Decoration day as it was feared that the trouble of last year might be repeated.

This petition, which was a lengthy one, was signed by Mayor B. L. Johner, of Andersonville, and the city council, as well as the state legislature.

The petition was stated that his marshals were shot last year when his prisoners were taken away from him by a drunken mob of negroes.

On Decoration Day a large number of negroes go to Andersonville, and as whisky is usually about, there is frequently trouble.

It is to avoid trouble that Governor Atkinson has refused to grant the petition.

It is well known that with every repreduction such as this, and with the expense of shipping from the world's fair exhibit, Mr. Pangalo will be able to arrange his Cairo street in even better shape than at Chicago. It is not known whether the theater will be reproduced, but it probably will be. The dance du ventre was one of the features of Cairo street at the world's fair.

FOILED THEIR FLIGHT

An Eloping Pair Stopped Yesterday Afternoon at the Depot.

A YOUNG LADY'S SENSATIONAL STORY

Says She Was Driven Away from Home, and Detained Against Her Will. What the Young Man Has to Say.

Will Johnson, a young man well known, and his wife Edith Allen, a pretty young lady of eighteen, were conducted to the police station yesterday at 1 o'clock by Patrolman Harper.

The young man was mad and gave vent to his rage in language interspersed with fiery explosives. His fair companion was sad and her large black eyes, inflamed with much weeping, told of the deep mortification which the unexpected termination of her prospects and the presence of police officers caused her to feel.

At the station house, there was a meeting of the Executive Board of the Southern States Passenger Association.

Mr. W. H. Baldwin, Jr., third vice president of the Southern railway, arrived in the city yesterday by appointment and will spend several days here closing the arrangements for the planting of the exposition terminals of the Southern.

He will probably have conferences with the exposition directors today and make the final decision that will settle what has been a somewhat perplexing question for so many weeks and days.

It is also probable that Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Scott, general manager of the Georgia railroad, will have a conference some time during the day, as there has been some little delay in the closing arrangements between the Southern and the Georgia with respect to the exact location of the exposition depot the Southern will have to locate.

It is known that the exposition trains will be operated on a double line from town to the exposition gates, and it has been practically settled just where and how the trains will approach the grounds. All this was determined by the first agreement between the exposition authorities and the officials of the Southern, and the Southern and the Georgia as to exactly where the city depot will be located.

some Events of the Future—Coop About Social Events and Matters Pertaining Thereto.

The miniature exhibit, which occurs at the residence of Mrs. William L. Peel this afternoon and evening, will be an unusually interesting entertainment, as it will give one a charming idea of ye olden times.

Alred a large collection of portraits and miniatures have been placed in the beautiful ball room of the Peel mansion, and many of them have interesting histories.

One of the best pieces of work and decidedly the most beautiful face in the collection is the small watercolor picture of Mrs. Livingston, Mum's father, Colonel Harper of Mississippi. The face is beautiful, with a delicacy and fairness that is enchanting.

Mrs. Dora Hopkins has loaned a picture of her grandfather and mother which are delicately painted in watercolors, the former being in imitation of a medallion suspended from an old oak wall by a blue moire ribbon.

Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie exhibits the oldest miniature, a grandmother, fifteen years old, which has been in her family over two hundred years. The subject, Miss Barbara Harris of South Carolina, was an ancestor of the distinguished families of Richardson, Manning, Hampton, Moore and Cartington, of Edgefield and Sumpter districts.

Mrs. Paul Walker, of Dalton, sends a miniature portrait of her mother, who as Miss Eleanor Brown, of Boston, was shown marked attention by George Washington at his inaugural ball, and also presented by that distinguished statesman with a curious bracelet which accompanies the picture. Mrs. Walker also exhibits a brooch gift presented Miss Brown by her namesake, Mr. William Belcher, which is a fine, delicate as a brooch, with an emblematic picture under the oval glass showing Cupid a heart and a sheaf of wheat.

Miss Annie Speer is receiving much flattering attention at Rome, where she is a guest of Mrs. J. B. Niven.

Mrs. Bun Wylie will spend the summer at Richmond with her father, Major Sibley. She leaves on Saturday.

The Misses Clara and Julia Sanders will return from Germany this week. They are in New York.

The friends of Miss L. Y. Sage will be glad to know that she is almost entirely recovered from her recent illness.

The return of Miss Avis Bates from Baltimore will be the occasion of much interest. She will be here on Saturday, and will end and she will in the autumn make her debut under the chaperonage of her cousin, Mrs. Green B. Adair. Miss Bates is an unusually pretty girl, with delicate blonde coloring and tall, lithe figure. She dresses well and is sure to be a great belle.

There was a delightful concert and hop given at the Atlanta Turn Verein last night under the direction of Mr. J. P. O'Donnell.

The programme was:

FRIST PART.

Overture, "Raymond"; Thomas-Wurm's orchestra.

"Pilgrim's Chorus," from "Tannhauser"; Wagner—Atlanta Turn Verein chorus.

Clarinet solo, "Air Varie," Klose—Mr. Fred Wedemeyer.

Barolo solo, "Israel," Oliver King—Mr. William Jesup.

Waltz, "Happy Thoughts," Neuqueller-Wurm's orchestra.

PART SECOND.

"Sanctus," from "Messe Solennelle," Gounod—Mr. William Owens and chorus.

(a) "How Can I Forget Thee?" Denza; (b) "Because I Love Thee So," Hawley—Mrs. W. S. Yeates.

Violin solo, Mr. G. Boehm.

Trios Donizetti—Mrs. Yeates, Mr. Owens and Mr. Stiff.

"Soldiers Chorus," from "Faust," Gounod—Atlanta Turn Verein chorus.

Each number was delightfully rendered. Special mention is made of the songs by Mrs. Yeates, and also of "Sanctus" from "Messe Solennelle," sung by Mr. William Owens and the Atlanta Turn Verein male chorus.

At the conclusion of the programme dancing was engaged in, which lasted until a late hour.

The residence of Mr. T. D. Major, on Peachtree street, will be filled to overflowing this evening with the elite of the city; the occasion being a musical for the benefit of the woman's department. Mrs. Minnie Iverson Randolph, who is the possessor of a beautiful soprano voice, will make her Atlanta debut. Miss Howard Persinger and Miss Owens, Pigott and Saxon, will be on the stage. The dancing is for those who are fortunate in the possessors of ticks, and have thus given aid to the deserving object of the entertainment.

Miss Adaline Kincaid, of Griffin, will arrive in the city Wednesday and will be a guest of Miss Maud Leek.

Mrs. Ollie Fuller is in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Scott. Mrs. Fuller has been spending the winter on her orange grove in Florida and is on her way to New York.

Miss Jimmie Byrd will go to Milledgeville this week to visit friends for a few days.

Mr. Hugh Colquitt is in the city on his way from Augusta to Washington.

Mrs. D. G. Wylie and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hurt have gone to Green county to spend a few weeks.

Everybody is talking about the write-up of Atlanta and the exposition that appeared in the Chicago 400. During his stay in the city, Mr. Howard Persinger, and the many friends and admirers of Atlanta and the enterprise in which all Atlantans are so deeply interested, Persinger's publication is an asset to him. His descriptive article on the half-tone cuts he has used show to splendid advantage. He has described the progress of the exposition, and the progress in medicinal agents has been of equal importance and as a strengthening laxative that Syrup of Figs is far in advance of all others.

The past week has been a model one for work in the southwest counties of the state. Showers occurred during the week but no general rains were reported. Corn has most all been plowed out and cotton is up the order of the day. Corn is a good color and growing nicely, although it is believed a large crop will be marketed this year.

The rose garden belonging to Major Frank Warren is looking brilliant and beautiful, with bushes in flower and blossoming buds. Mrs. Warren has given the garden much care this season and is thereby rewarded by an abundance of rare and fragrant roses.

Miss Julia Robinson is one of the pretty debutantes for next season. Miss Robinson is a representative of the Lerner family and is an unusually plump and attractive girl.

A New Cotton Seed Industry Started
in the South.

PORT ROYAL, S. C., GETS THE PLANT
But the Business Will All Be Transacted
in This City—Delinquent Cotton and the Various Products To Be Exported.

The headquarters of a new industry will soon be located in this city.

This emphasizes the fact that Atlanta is daily forcing her way to the front as the leading manufacturing center of the south.

The industry that now claims the attention of the public is the Planters' Cotton Seed Company. It has been organized by a number of leading business men of this city for the purpose of dealing in cotton seed and the various products made therefrom.
The plant will be located at Port Royal, S. C., but the business headquarters will be in this city. It is necessary for the plant to be located near a seaport in order to facilitate the exportation of the products manufactured.

Plants will also be located at Brunswick, Savannah, New Orleans and Galveston, in connection with the American Manufacturing and Export Company.

The company has received license from Mr. O. T. Bugg, the president of the American Manufacturing and Export Company, to use all their patents on the machinery
used in the delinquent process.

Mr. E. Van Winkle, of this city, who will be connected with the enterprise, and whose general knowledge and experience in the cotton seed manufacturing business for a number of years back makes him good authority on all subjects relating to cotton seed, has carefully examined into the delinquent process and says that all the mills in the country will have to add this process to their plants. Instead of, as now, making an average of 700 pounds of meal
from a ton of cotton seed, they can make from 1,000 to 1,200 pounds, and not reduce the present average yield in oil.

There seems to be no practical limit to the possibilities of this industry. Products manufactured from cotton seed can be used for food, both for man and beast, for mechanical purposes, for the arts, for replacement of worn out parts, for paper, for oil and rubber, for illuminating oils, salad oils, soap stocks, butter and lard, dried grade paints and for stock feeding. For quick fattening and dairy feed, cotton seed meal and hulls have no equal. In Texas, the great cattle raising section, 75 per cent of all the cattle are fattened for market on cotton seed and hulls, stems having been known to take on flesh from eight to ten pounds a day. No other food is used except when cotton seed meal and hulls cannot be obtained. The average feed per head is 800 pounds of meal and 2,000 pounds of hulls. This will feed the average steer in the winter for 120 days, and put him in the very best marketable condition.

The business of exporting seed will be one of the features of the Planters' Cotton Seed Company. The mills in Europe use only the black or hulless variety. This is due to the reason that seeds with lint attached are not good for transportation; they become heated and swell in shipment. These seed are obtained chiefly from Egypt, and the sea island section of this country. The black seed, however, is inferior in oil producing quality. The un-land cotton being smooth and without lint attached to it will not stand up well and will not be pleased for his many friends to call.

The Atlanta Grocery Company and its Phenomenal Growth.

About a year ago the Atlanta Grocery Company opened its doors in business in this city. During the time it has been in business it has made a host of friends in this city and throughout the south. Atlanta is the place for a business to do well, and the company has been most successful.

The company has been doing a splendid trade, notwithstanding the fact that the times have been unusually dull.

Most grocery merchants a year ago did not expect to do more than a moderate business.

It was thought that at this time the company started in business that great risks would be incurred by it, yet the facts are to the contrary. The company has been a success from the first, and has been a success to the last.
